

How the CHC sets the passing score for the exam:

Determining the cut score (score needed to pass) was undertaken by a panel of eight Certified homeopaths under the direction of Assessment Systems, an internationally recognized psychometric and testing consulting firm. The study set a benchmark on a 180-item score test form (Up to 40 items are included on each test as pilot items that are incorporated into future exams. These items do not impact an individual's score.) A modified Angoff methodology was used and after reviewing data from the exam the cut score of 255 on a scaled score of 100-300 was recommended by the panel to the board. The CHC Board ratified the recommendation. All versions of the test are statistically equated.
